the best

of opportunities

New students found opportunities to further talents, opportunities in learning a trade, and most important of all, new opportunities in education.

Members of the orchestra introduced sophomores to opportunities in our music department.

Many Lorain High students found opportunities to further their talents in art class.

These two girls taking inventory discovered the enormous amount of supplies and equipment that are offered to advance opportunities in science.

of friendships

We renewed old acquaintances and found new friends; and while working, playing and laughing together, we realized that this was the Best Year of Friendships.

Seniors exchanged name-cards to remember each other long after school days are over.

Familiar couples were seen together in the hall between classes.

Senior-B's take time out during games at their party to autograph each other's programs.

Sophomores are introduced to the wealth of material found in our high school library.

best
year

of new experiences

Seniors, juniors and sophomores alike found new experiences in the classroom and outside.

These students had the new experience of making bromine in our laboratory.

A future in mechanics may be the outcome of this new experience.

An amazing new world with the possibility of many new experiences is revealed to this boy through the lens of the microscope.

the best year

The past year was fun — the fun that comes with hard work, companionship and accomplishments. By taking advantage of our extensive extra-curricular activities, we made it in reality the Best Year of Fun.

The operetta cast had fun between scenes of "The Desert Song." Dancing and ping pong, as well as other entertainment made the Senior-B party diverting. Couples enjoyed themselves at the Senior Prom.

Yes, this mass of jumbled humanity is really a group of Hi-Y pledges enjoying themselves ?? — at the Hi-Y initiation.

A three-legged race was one of the highlights of the operetta party. In this snapshot three couples are caught coming down the homestretch.

of dreams

come true . . .

 The Seniors entered the auditorium. This was their day, their great moment, theirs — after twelve years.

 With the dream of graduation near, another dream comes true — the Senior Banquet. Everyone attending had a wonderful time.

Perhaps a dream which is harder to attain than most but certainly a dream that symbolizes real success in one's high school career is induction into the National Honor Society.

Academic Opportunities

For all of us, education represents the opportunity to make something of ourselves and our future. Among the next few pages we shall see the various ways in which we took advantage of our academic opportunities . . .

During a round table discussion, the members of the speech class listen attentively to Miss Evans's information concerning the social problems of our city.

English Department

English, as taught in our school, is the learning of grammar, practical application, literature, journalism, public speaking, and dramatic arts. A new course, Senior English, was added to the curriculum and consists of a discussion of works in all literatures. It furnishes the student with a good cultural background to serve him as a means of a finer appreciation of the great literatures of the world. Our high school is making a real contribution to better living today and tomorrow.

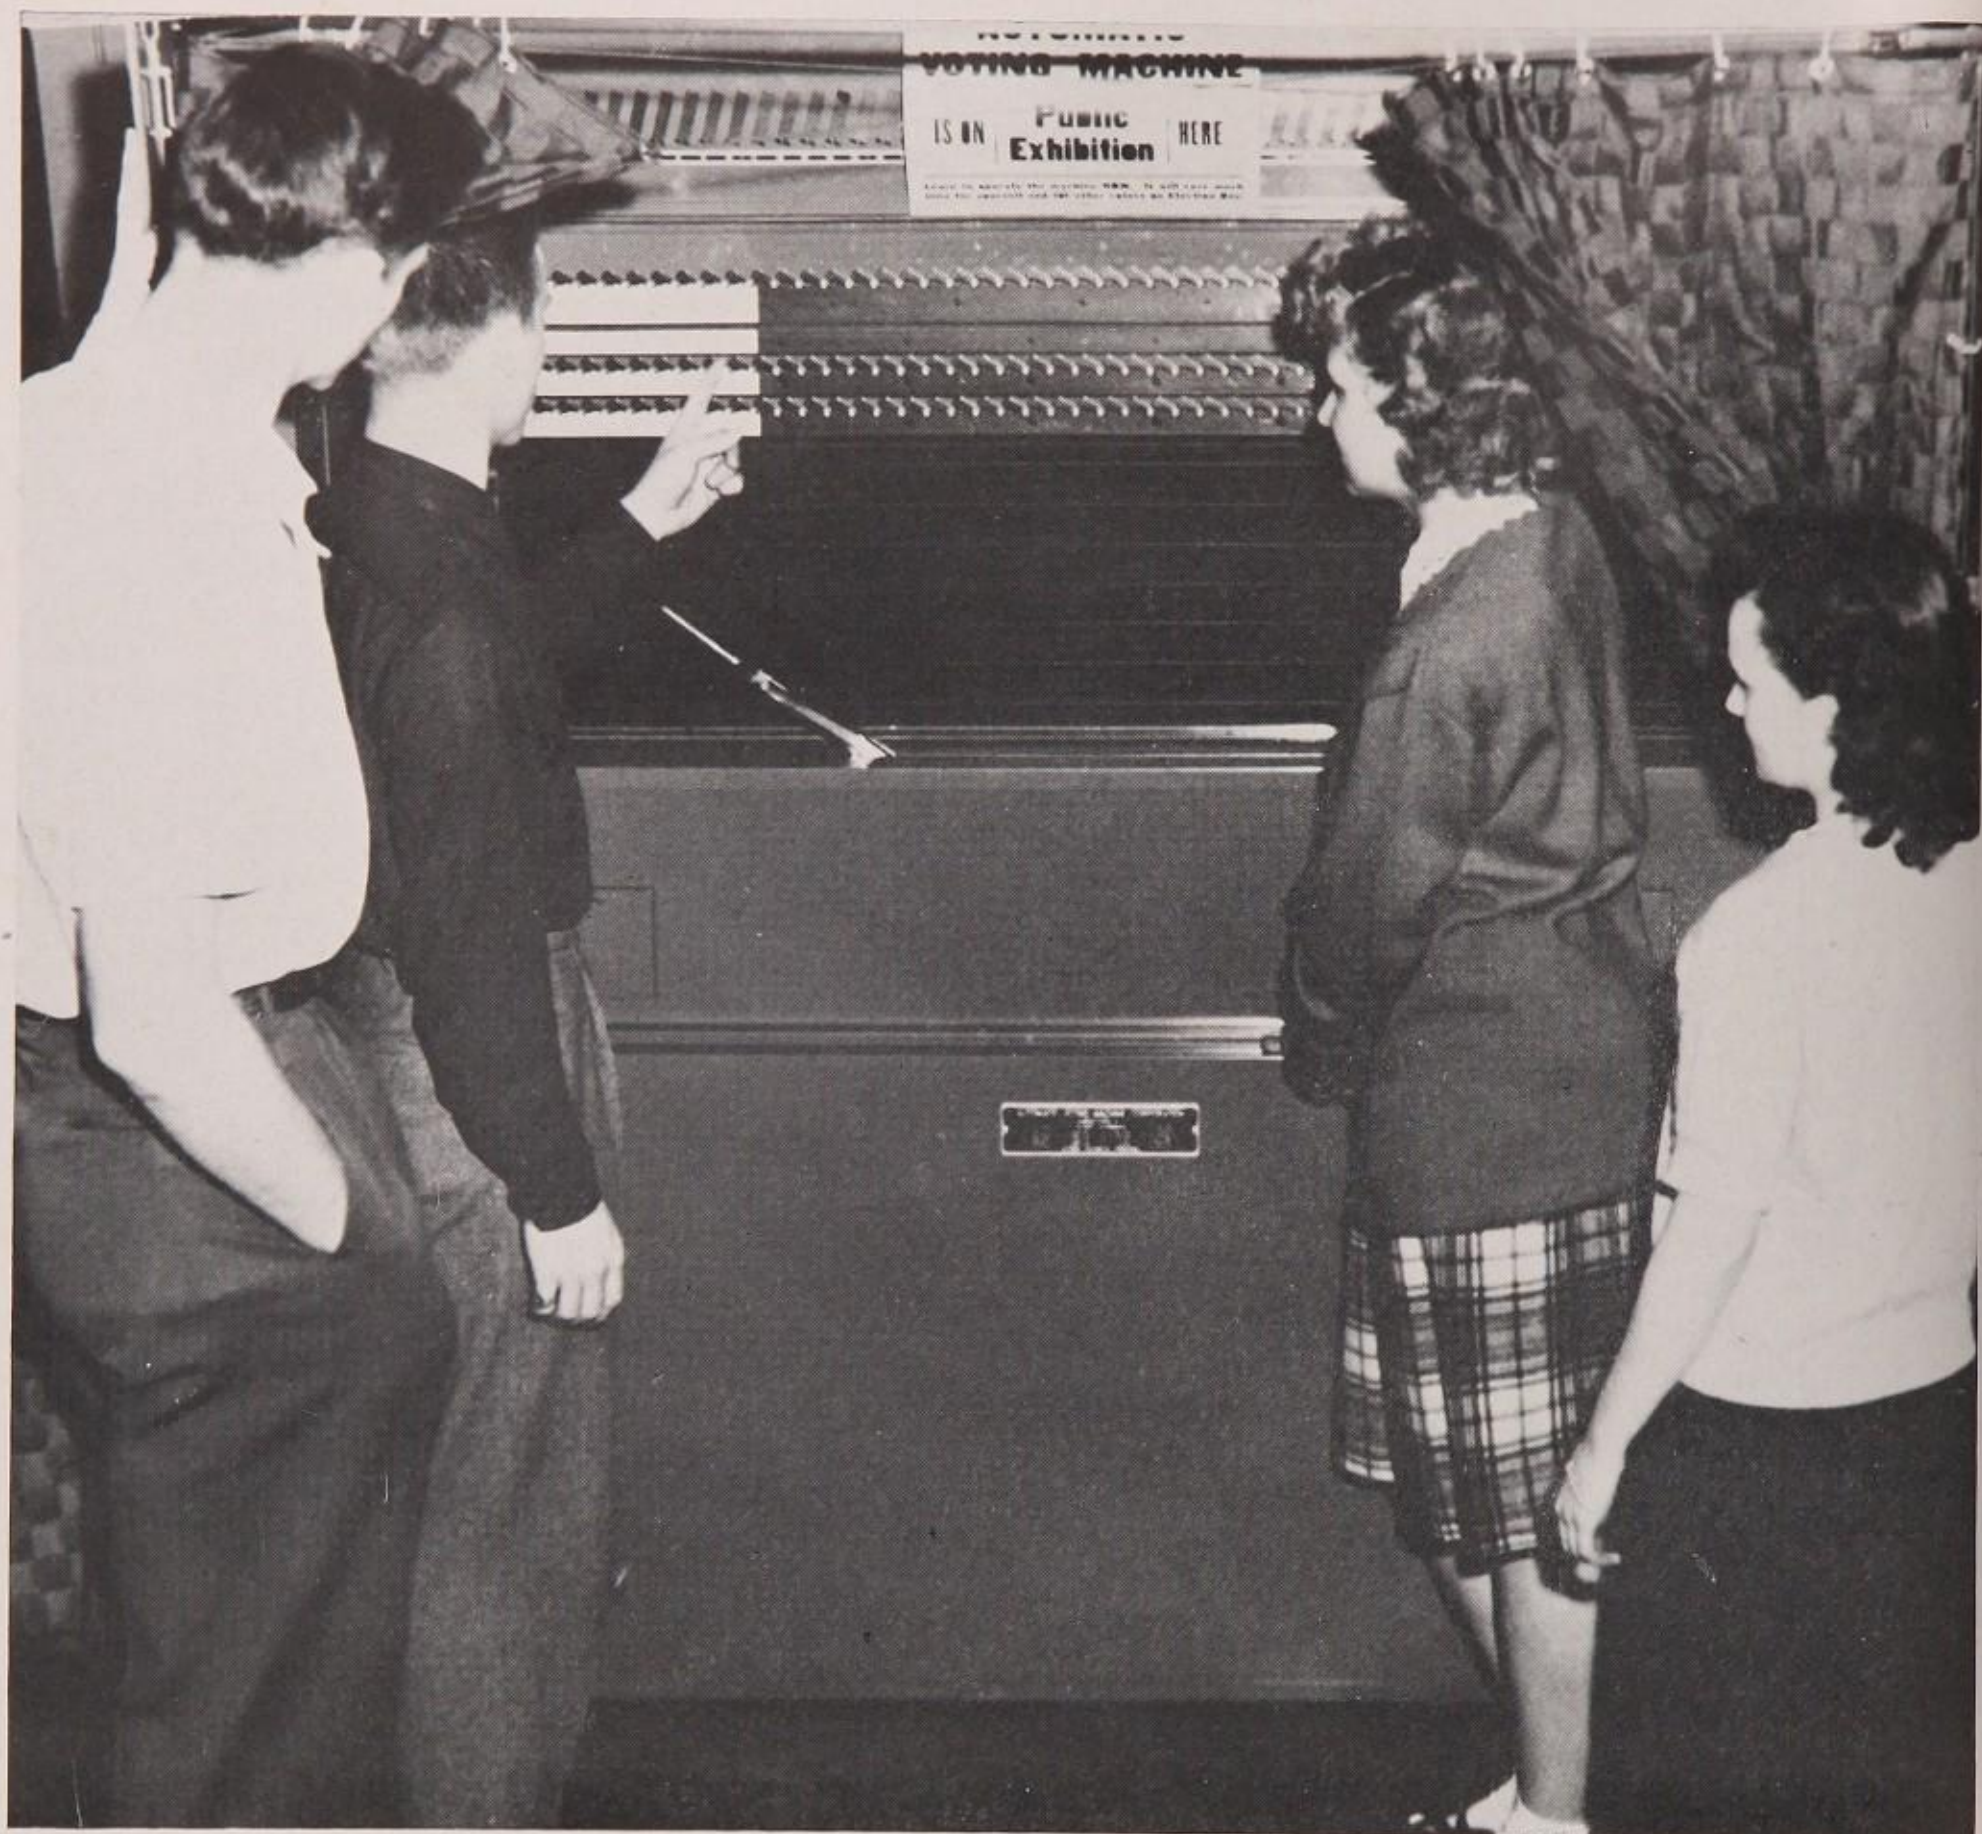

Foreign Languages Department

A knowledge of foreign languages is becoming more and more important today as the nations of the world are brought closer together by modern transportation. Now, more than ever before, it is necessary for people of different nations to be able to discuss thoroughly and calmly the problems that arise, so as to bring about a peaceful, happy world.

In the spirit of this ideal, the United Nations was conceived. In the understanding of all peoples lies the hope for peace in the world.

A group of French, Spanish, and German students, symbolizing their respective nations, illustrate the belief that people of different backgrounds and ideas can live together happily and peacefully.

New voting machines will be used in the municipal election this fall. Social Science students had a preview of the "new look" in voting.

Social Science Department

The intricacies of our government, the steps leading up to our present-day system, and the problems that arise in it are the important ideas emphasized in the study of social science. The youth of today are the leaders of tomorrow and must be well-trained and able to meet this responsibility. The study of government furnishes the pupil with the necessary information and background, so that he will be able to cope successfully with the perplexing problems that confront us.

Mathematics Department

A greater development of the powers of reasoning is offered to students taking advanced math courses. Common sense is the basic factor in learning how to solve problems. Deciding what the problem actually is and then using the shortest and best method of solving it are the duties of each student. These methods are taught to the pupil, and he is urged to understand the reasoning behind it. This training prepares the student to continue his study of mathematics in higher schools of learning and prepares him for a future occupation in this field.

Problems in surveying land were the task assigned to the trigonometry class. With the help of the transit and the mathematical knowledge gained in their classrooms, these students hope to complete their job satisfactorily.

Here seated are several students studying the principle of steam power. The steam engine may be a mere toy, but it works in representation of a sound physical principle.

Science Department

Science is a branch of study concerned with observation and classification of facts and with the establishment of verifiable general laws, chiefly by induction and hypothesis.

We all enjoyed the study of physics and know it has a future use for all of us. Some students will, probably, continue in that field of work. The foundations received in high school science will better prepare one to meet the responsibility and problems that arise in the future.

Commercial Department

Students enrolled in commercial courses learn the operation of the many types of machines used to expedite and prepare the various types of business forms. Skills learned in office practice become valuable and necessary for accurate work in the actual experience on the job. Speed was important. Neatness was essential. Efficient stenographers and careful bookkeepers were the best advertisement of our lessons learned well.

Commercial students are operating a Monroe Calculator — an essential machine in any office.

Girls, as well as boys, prepare for future occupations in industries. Woodworking develops the skill of the hands and produces many useful and beautiful articles for the home.

Industrial Arts Department

The first step in America toward industrial training as a part of the public school system was made about 1870 when manual training was introduced into many high schools. Manual training had no relationship to vocational education, as it was merely an element of culture and general efficiency. Today industrial arts has become an important phase of education in high school, with large modern, well-equipped shops, and teachers especially prepared in this subject.

Home Economics Department

The practical work of cooking is taught in the home economics classes. The best method of preparing food and the most desirable combinations to serve are discussed and experimented with by the girls.

Home economics includes instructions in sewing, as well. The girls are instructed in the choosing and testing of textile fabrics, in the use and care of sewing machines, and the most suitable and becoming style of clothing for every occasion.

With eager anticipation, the home economics class prepared the food and set the table for a well-balanced meal.

Christmas time was a merry time as art students prepared novelties for use at Veterans Hospitals for Christmas parties. Santa's chimney was to add the Christmas touch in the choir program.

Fine Arts Department

Painting landscapes and flowers in water colors is an important phase of the art course. Sketching each other is an enjoyable pastime of these students. However, oil painting is the most expressive method. It is capable of far richer effects, may be handled and applied in a multitude of ways, and can be easily worked over. During the past year, more elaborate and unusual scenery has been produced by this class for the production of the operetta and the school play.

Physical Education and Health Department

To many of us, sports have played an important part in making these the best years of our lives.

The many hours spent in the various outdoor and indoor sports not only helped us to understand the meaning of good sportsmanship, but also have taught to us the importance of true friendship.

It was fun to win in competitive games, but it was more fun to play together and win with the team. The spirit of competition was always keen; but we learned, above all, to play according to the rules of the game.

Tumbling and acrobatics developed a keen sense of balance and muscular control. It wasn't easy to be graceful, and so we all admired the skillful acrobatic artist.

Our Principal

No long story is necessary to introduce our principal, Mr. Shook. His friendly counsel, congenial manner, and helpfulness have made him for all students a real principal. Under his direction the year's program was planned and realized. His contribution to our school life helped to make this year among the best of our experience.

Our Superintendent

Words cannot portray adequately the influence of our superintendent, Mr. Luttrell. His was the job of managing the entire school system so that for all children in our school system the past year could always be remembered as one of the best years they would recall. Our school progress was essentially due to his vision and foresight.

Office responsibilities were handled efficiently and well through the careful cooperation of our office secretaries — Miss Shirley Stewart and Mrs. Josephine Faroh Dunnigan. (Mrs. John Dunnigan.)

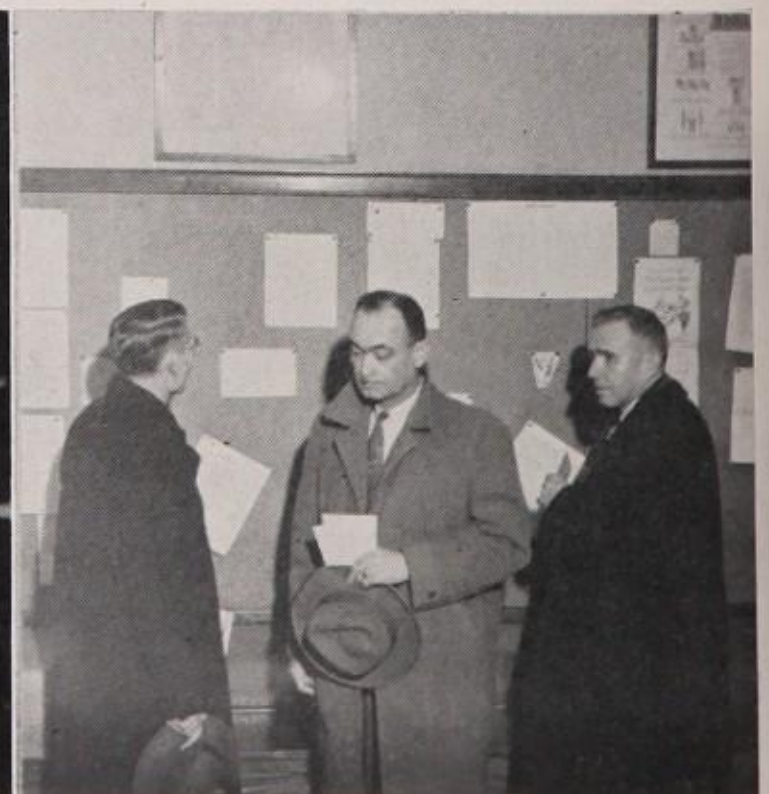

Mr. Luttrell, Mr. Shook, and Mr. Pincura opened the campaign for the participation of the schools in the Community Chest Drive — school service that was real community service.

Off the Record

The candid camer of Mr. Jones caught the faculty in this interesting series of informal shots during the refreshments period preceding the regular faculty meetings. Under the careful supervision of Miss Craw, girls in the home economics department prepared and served delicious cakes, cookies, and tea sandwiches in keeping with the spirit of the season, but always with that "something extra" to makes these teachers' meetings also the best of their lives.

Another day finds Mr. Bash, Mr. Newman, and Mr. Swartwood just completing their examination of the day's announcements on the bulletin board.

School finances as reported in the clerk's statement call for serious consideration.

Busily at Work

The Board of Education operates the Lorain School system. It is the governing body of the schools, planning the activities, and erecting new buildings. The choice of books and the curriculum in general are decided upon by these men. They are elected by the citizens of Lorain and play an important part in school and community affairs.

Members of the Board of Education are A. E. Miller, president; David Mowrey, vice-president; Roland Horn, Dr. Walter S. Nielsen, and Joseph Svete. Charles A. Hartz is clerk-treasurer, and Walter Pillans is business manager.

Purchasing supplies for a large school system call for careful and thoughtful action upon the business manager's report.

Friendships

During the past year we discovered that our friendships formed the basis of the wonderful times we had in school. In this section we shall meet the students that have worked together to make it th best year of their lives.

Trying on their caps and gowns are the class officers of 1948-A — Jay McConihe, president; Dick Phiel, vice-president; Elizabeth Ciccati, secretary; Dolores Smith, treasurer.

It Won't Be Long Now!

The best year of our lives was certainly a busy one. Banquet, prom, baccalaureate, exam days were only a few events that we attended. Recommending color schemes for the senior banquet, choosing announcements and pins, and selecting a motto also helped to keep us busy.

Seniors realized all too soon that this certainly was the best year of their lives.

The color committee picked out colors to be presented and voted upon.

*These graduates distinguished themselves by having their name put on the service plaque. They are Fred Faroh, Bill Dancik, Georgia Delis, Elizabeth Ciccatti, and

Efficient Committees Planned Senior Events

To make graduation a wonderful memory, much of the responsibility falls on the Senior committees. This year's committees are listed below.

PIN — George Simonovich, chairman; Nada Visnich, Pauline Coats, Charles M. Thompson, Virginia Del Signore, and Mr. Bash, sponsor.

ANNOUNCEMENT — Joe Woloszanski, chairman; Joyce Robinson, Georgia Delis, Walter Jakabowski, Ted Reynolds, and Miss Swick, sponsor.

MOTTO — Shirley Brantford, chairman; Bob Bryan, Gertrude Beyer, Fred Faroh, Don Sanborn, and Miss Vorman, sponsor.

COLOR — Georgia Pappas, chairman; Jack McDaniel, Shirley Crehore, Jean Bevan, Fran Matesic, and Miss Wheatley, sponsor.

SOCIAL — Jay McConihe, chairman; Dick Phiel, Dolores Smith, Elizabeth Ciccatti, George Simonovich, Joe Woloszanski, Shirley Brantford, and Georgia Pappas.

Motto: "Not finishing, just beginning."

Colors: American beauty and white.

Reminders of a Busy Year For Seniors

(1) Seniors began early to choose class colors, announcements, and motto. (2) Seniors filled out cards for future jobs. (3) Along with the excitement of graduation came FINAL examinations. (4) An honor looked forward to by many seniors was induction into National Honor Society. (5) Graduation seemed near when Mr. Newman checked measurements for caps and gowns. (6) The last great event before graduation was the Senior A Banquet. (7) Graduation was a dream come true. (8) At long last the diploma.

Our four officers, awake (?) and alert, begin another busy day.

The Wee Hours of the Morning . . .

The graduating class of 1948-B elected Art Diaz as its president. The other capable officers elected were Joe Bonser, Vice-president; Sally Spademan, Secretary; and Ann Carlson, Treasurer. Shortly after, the class officers announced the members which they had appointed to serve on the five committees during the semester. These committee members performed their work faithfully and with ceaseless effort to make the graduating class of 1948-B one that will be remembered.

A motto and an announcement indicated that graduation would soon be here.

Senior Committees

The members of the committees of the graduating class of 1948-B were as follows:

ANNOUNCEMENT — Floro Miraldi, chairman; Richard Haff, Margaret Frederick, Thelma Garfield, Mary Lou Sattelle, Al Pikora, Lois Barnes, and Wee Pong. The faculty advisor is Miss Swick.

PIN — Jean Cica, chairman; Charles Angeloff, Bob Dover, Dolores Martonchik, Bill Bartos, Elaine Bernasek, Gloryann Lavish, Dick Kowalski. The faculty advisor is Mr. Bash.

COLOR — Cecelia Jachym, chairman; Bruce Govich, Vernon Wright, Frank Lynch, Marilyn Kolbe, and Rita Bosnak. Faculty advisor is Miss Wheatley.

MOTTO — Vic Andrews, chairman; Mike Manoloff, Betty Riley, Bob Mendsiek, Janet Birk, Irene Glagolev, Mary Kundrat, and Norbert Ganobik. Miss Vorman advises this group.

SOCIAL — Art Diaz, chairman; Joe Boncser, Sally Spademan, and Ann Carlson. Faculty advisers are Mr. Jones and Mr. Freshwater.

Motto: "The Horizon Widens As We Climb."

Colors: Canary Yellow and Royal Purple.

Choice of color combination and pin guard required careful committee work.

With Graduation, 305 Students Take

Underclassmen Shots

(1) Sophomores have many a tumble. (2) Not all subjects use books; chemistry seems to use bottles. (3) Underclass girls make their own coats and jackets. (4) Oops, upside down. That's the life Underclassmen lead. (5) Serving at prom, these girls look forward to their prom. (6) Let's enjoy the nice weather for tennis. (7) Lorain High does its part in the Red Feather Drive. (8) As these boys go through Hi-Y initiation, all Underclassmen are getting initiated into the Best Years of Their Lives.

These pictures you have just seen are those of the entire underclass student body at Lorain High School. It is the responsibility of these students to carry on in the footsteps of this year's graduating class and to make the future years at Lorain High the Best Years of Their Lives.

The best year
of our lives
because of . . .

New Experiences

Participating in various activities, students found a new experience in what they did and what they accomplished. The following pictures will show us some of the activities and events that have made this year a year to remember.

In a casual moment these graduates chat briefly at dinner while Charlie Chan presided with his subtle Chinese philosophy.

“Who Dunit?”

In an atmosphere of profound mystery, members of the 1948-A class listened to clever toasts, observed unique table decorations, and sat back to relax and laugh at witty jests at the expense of the faculty and good-natured classmates.

Toastmaster Joe Woloanski presided over the occasion while Gertrude Beyer, Dick Kaufer, Pauline Coats, and Mr. F. H. Smith were banquet speakers.

The happiness of the banquet will live in our hearts and memories long after we have finished our futile quest for “Who Dunit?” Our banquet was another reason why our senior year will help to remind us of the best year of our lives.

Gay couples and soft music made the senior prom a happy occasion.

To and Fro the Dancers Go

We will always remember the senior prom. Gliding across the floor to the enchanting music of Johnny Bove's orchestra is now only a dream of the past, but one which will live forever in our minds.

This was only the second senior prom, but the enjoyment that comes from it promises to make it an eternal tradition of our school.

Mr. Mills amused everyone with one of his "stories" at closing hour. We see him now awarding letters to Lorain High's first cross-country team.

The Vesters (minus vests)—state quartet champs—harmonize during an assembly program. The "Four Red Ties" were Andy Lisca, Vernon Wright, Bruce Govich and Frank Wittow.

Students were entertained by Chief White Eagle who told them many interesting traditions and customs of his people.

Special Assemblies, Closing Hour, and Pep Rallies

Appropriate tableaux added a new feature to the traditional choir Christmas concert. Here presented is the adoration of the shepherds and the Magi before the Christ Child and Mary.

In the final pep rally before the Elyria basketball game, students "raised the roof" in a rousing cheer to our fighting squad.

Magician Jim Nugent "amputated" the hand of his stooge Gerry Gow to the delight of the guests at the Senior-B party.

During the Lehi League Fun Day, girls from all league schools enjoyed a day of fellowship and fun. Square dancing proved an enjoyable recreation.

Were Additional Features, Besides Our Special Days

"Be natural. Turn a little to the right. That's good. NEXT."

This year's Scimitar staff had a big job. Because of the many activities and new events taking place, the staff had to keep busy constantly. Anyone stopping by the new Scimitar office after school could see members occupied with writing copy, identifying pictures, selecting pictures to be used, mounting pictures, and organizing the material. The theme chosen for the 1948 Scimitar was the "Best Years of Our Lives."

The camera catches this year's editors, Ruth Merves and Frank Wittow, as they enter the Scimitar office.

These Students Created

Rose Vitelli, Mary Lou Sattelle, Dorothy Ondo, and Ethel Gergely, the senior staff members, put finishing touches on senior panels.

The department editors, Shirley Burich, Alice Mae Smith, Ron Smith, and Billie Steris, are looking over the dummy copy.

Something Tangible

Among the underclass staff members are Elaine Volko, Marlene Skolnicki, Lillian Lachman and Alex Vasiloff, who are examining pictures to be used in the Scimitar. Those staff members not pictured are: Gloryann Lavish, Venera Thomovsky, Wilma Vasiloff, Nick Grubic, Shirley Prock.

In presenting this book to the students, the staff wishes to thank all those who have cooperated in its organization. We hope that we have created something tangible that will serve as a fine record of the year 1948.

Mary Jean Neimeth, Gloryann Lavish, and Mary Srbich compare their ad list with past advertisements.

Busily mounting ads are business editor Elaine Bernasek and her assistants Ruth Fashing, Martha Stack and Ann Wilcox.

“Get the Contract! Cut the Ad!”

These are some of the instructions which the business staff of the Hi-Standard receive from their advisor, Mr. Cook.

The importance of this staff is often forgotten. Without them our newspaper and Scimitar would not exist. The members solicit and collect for all advertising contracted by the various business establishments. The money collected helps to pay for our publications.

When giving advertisements to our newspaper, the business establishments grant special offers to students and are encouraged to display suitable school goods.

Jean Cica, Charlene Bernasek, and Ann Wilcox prepare a new list of subscribers to the yearbook.

Dorothy Ondo checks on Agnes Srbich's counting of the issues, while Janet Birk marks off the subscribers. Delores Martonchick reads.

The three typists are busy at work while Hi-Standard reporters look through back issues for "newsy" ideas.

The journalism II class is pasting the pink proof on old issues of the newspaper to prepare a "dummy" for the printer.

"Beat That Deadline"

This was the battle cry for the busy members of the Hi-Standard Editorial Staff. After Miss Watson issued the assignments, the journalism class wrote copy, prowled everywhere, interviewed students and managed to keep the Hi-Standard new and different each issue. Every other Thursday, the students of Lorain High School reviewed the fun they were having, recorded on the pages of the high school newspaper.

Ray Szabo, editor, proof-reads a newly printed page of the Hi-Standard with the help of his three assistants.

Miss Watson's journalism class is composing eye-catching headlines for the next issue of the paper.

The primary purpose of the Student Senate-Council is to represent the student body in such a manner as to improve school life and to make for a better relationship between the faculty and the student body. The council also helps to bring out traits of leadership and character in the student body. This group also develops in the student a growing appreciation of membership in a democracy by providing the educative responsibilities and the privileges of participating in such a democracy in the school.

Senate-Council members decorate the bulletin boards for the Easter holiday.

Skills in Self-Government

The Activities Committee of the Senate Council examines some students' suggestions.

This year the Senate Council, under the leadership of Leonard Krawczenski, president; Frank Wittow, vice-president; and Ann Carlson, secretary-treasurer began new activities. Student suggestion boxes were placed on all floors to find out what improvements students wanted. A Senate Council dance was for the first time held in the cafeteria. The United Nations appeal for children was aided by an "April Showers" dance sponsored by the council. By the use of bulletins, Lorain High School became aware of what the council was accomplishing to make this the best year for all in the school.

To become a member of the Junior Red Cross all one had to do was to make a small contribution towards this great organization. Chairmen of the home rooms were selected as representatives. They collected the money from the pupils and in return handed out small pins, showing membership.

The gift boxes were sent out to war-torn countries in Europe and contained such articles as: soap, pencils, hair ribbons, towels, and many other articles which are very scarce and much needed in Europe today.

Members of the Jr. Red Cross are busy packing boxes to be sent overseas.

They Served When Needed

A few of the health office aids give Mrs. McDaniels help in checking health cards.

Another group contributing to the efficiency of the school are health and guidance aides, devoting a part of their time each day to help in the offices.

Grades and records of absences and tardiness are listed by these guidance aides in addition to their regular office errands.

Health room aides administer first aid in emergencies and give helpful service to the health program in Lorain High.

During every period in the day and even before school, pupils are serving as aids to Miss Faroh and Miss Stewart. Each period a student is in the office distributing mail, answering telephone calls, delivering messages, and running errands for the office.

These students are chosen to serve throughout a semester and during that period they prove to be an important aid to our school.

Several of the office aids are seen checking over attendance records.

The Unseen Hands That Made Work Light

Running off absentee reports is one of the many jobs of the mimeographers.

A daily activity of the mimeographers is that of running off absentee reports. They save time for many teachers by mimeographing their tests and examinations. They also make Senior A programs and Senior B programs for the senior activities. The mimeographers gain a knowledge of how to use the mimeograph machine and mimescope. These aids not only contribute much to the school but also prepare themselves for future secretarial work.

Another group of busy workers in Lorain High School are the library aids, who give up much of their time so that the library will be run efficiently and smoothly. Some of the various duties of these junior and senior girls include checking books in and out, repairing worn books, sorting and alphabetizing permits.

Miss Pitts, head librarian, has often said that she doesn't know what she would do without her aids.

Checking in books and sorting permits are some of the duties of the library aids.

Pleasure Was Their Business

A few stage hands are seen backstage just before curtain time.

It is through the efforts of the movie operators that we are able to enjoy the noon movies. These boys have given up their time in order that we might spend the last fifteen minutes of our lunch period "at the show." They also show movies in A-11, so that we may receive additional education through films.

The stage hands contribute much to our enjoyment also. These are the boys that are responsible for moving scenery, lighting and cleaning up at all our school productions. They helped immeasurably during the productions of The Desert Song, and Midsummer Night's Dream.

"Follow me, please," is a well known phrase repeated many times during the year by the auditorium ushers. The ushers are on the job for many occasions such as the operetta, D.A. play, and commencement.

They have come to be an important part of any large affair that is presented by the high school.

Before the evening's performance a few of the ushers check over the program.

"One Alone"—Gary Gordon and Gloryann Lavish as the "Red Shadow" and Margot.

"The Desert Song"

Vernon Wright and Frank Wittow and the soldiers chorus sing of Margot's beauty.

"Desert Song," one of Romberg's perennial favorites, came to the Lorain High School stage in full beauty as the annual operetta presented by the a cappella choir.

Double identities and outlaw intrigue made this the best show in years — It played for three nights for the first time in operetta history at Lorain.

"When will these Christians ever become civilized," — says Bruce Govich as Ali Ben Ali surrounded by his harem girls.

We Salute

"Peg o' My Heart" was one of our many clever formations—results of hours of practice.

Row 1: Sally Spademan, Delores Duskey, Joan McKlveen, Ann Carlson, Emma Gutosky, Earlene Frank.

Row 2: Jeanne Doyle, Shirley Burich, Carl Aten, Rose Mary Beyer, Lois France, Nancy Driscoll, Willard Graver.

Row 3: Dave Beecher, Bruce Van Deusen, Anna Lou Watson, Walter Wyvill, Bill Wisniewski, Al Torres, Clarice Hahn, Donna Henry, Thelma Garfield.

Row 4: Doris Smith, Donna Clark, Donald Wright, Don Wagner, Vivian Lopatkovich, Dick Treaster, Edith Chapman, Bill Lachowyn.

the Band

A very prominent and colorful phase of our school activities is the marching band.

In their gay, blue uniforms with gold braid they furnish a large portion of the entertainment for our football games. They travel with the football team and brighten up the program between the halves.

Baton twirlers practiced on the football field.

Mr. Brown, our cheerful conductor, directs the band and orchestra.

Our Orchestra Was

The orchestra furnished sweet and mellow music for us in assemblies, the Lehi Festivities, the May Festival, and various other programs. We found no program complete without the music of the orchestra.

Row 1: Arlene Warhola, Jim Ziegler, Joe Boncser, Nancy Anderson.

Row 2: Amelia Espinosa, Anita Duskey, Delores Duskey, Arlene St. Aubin, Earlene Frank, Ann Carlson, Emma Gutosky, Joan McKlveen.

Row 3: Elmer Di Filippo, Christine Kozloski, Greta Gordon, Lorna Raynak, Clarice Hahn, Floro Miraldi, Fred Farschman, Carole Hahn, Don Brenner.

Row 4: Nancy Driscoll, Bill Lachowyn, Carl Aten.

Standing: Sally Spademan, Martha Ann Stack, Don Bowditch, Phyllis Pelter, Dave Beecher.

a Musical Attraction

Much practice was needed to provide enjoyable music. Perfect coordination must be achieved in playing instruments but with this practice came fun! The orchestra members truly enjoyed themselves in the best years of their lives.

The bass section concentrates through Straus' "Gypsy Baron."

Row 4: Hugh Close, Bob Case, Joe Dettorre.

Standing: Larry Guido, Beverly Thompson, Sterling Nichols, Jerri Mathews, Al Middendorf, Vivian Lopatkovich, Norma Shanks, Tom Askew.

The Lorain High A Cappella Choir

The combined efforts of the Choir members, under the capable direction of Mr. Howard Hansen, led to many excellent performances.

Choir members are made into vagabonds back stage.

Teachers and cast chattered between the scenes of the "Desert Song."

Miss Dempsey measures choir members for the operetta.

Singin' and Havin' Fun!

This is one of the most active organizations in school. Assemblies, the Operetta, Christmas with all its traditions, the League Festival, Junior High Festivals, and at last June Graduation give the choir a full schedule.

The Choir caroled on the center stairs on the last day of school, 1947.

Santa appeared at the Christmas cantata.

After caroling, Choir members returned to 206 for ice cream, candy, and pop corn balls.

A Midsummer

An inspiring comedy by William Shakespeare, combined with the excellent acting of the Dramatic Arts class, directed by Miss Hardy, and the beautiful scenery painted by the Art Classes gave Lorain High School a fitting play for the best years of their lives.

An integral part of the performance was Mendelssohn's music, furnished by a special orchestra.

Hail! Our Steelmen

Playing before a capacity crowd of 7,000 spectators, the Lorain Steelmen opened their season with a 13 to 0 triumph over Akron North. Sparked by the fine playing of Bob Dover and the superb blocking of Luther Charlton, the Pryormen came forth with a very commendable showing by turning back a stubborn Cleveland West eleven 25 to 0. Coming back in a bruising 4th period the Steubenville Big Red smothered Lorain's hopes by dealing them a 14 to 6 defeat. Although they were defeated, the Steelers proved that they could make a good showing against the top teams in the State.

The high spirited Cleveland Heights team handed Lorain their worst Lake Erie League defeat, a 41 to 0 drubbing. After a 12 to 12 deadlock with Shaker, Lorain's Steelmen, led by Dover's 60, 56, and 47 yard runs, romped to a thrilling 34 to 6 decision over the Sandusky Streaks. It was in this game that the talented toe of Bob Zeigman split the uprights with 4 out of 5 extra point attempts.

In every phase of the game vast improvement due to the return of regulars, was significant with every man sharing in the victory. Lorain then defeated Lakewood and Shaw, 27 to 20 and 14 to 6, respectively. Then was the game everyone looked forward to; could Lorain defeat the undefeated Elyria eleven? Playing before a packed Stadium, Lorain surprised everyone but Coach Pryor who expected victory, by allowing Elyria a mere 7 to 6 victory. Lorain, giving no quarter and asking none, gave Elyria a toe to toe battle. When the smoke cleared away from the field Lorain had wound up a successful season and had also uncovered talent that will prove interesting to watch next season.

Action-Filled Minutes Made All Games Thrillers

You can't do that! Pliny Keep prepares to sink a foul just called by the official.

The Lorain cagers under the able direction of Coach Ed Cinniger, won 5 and lost 5 games in League competition. Paced by the accuracy of Roland Horn and Fritz Martin, Lorain rolled up a total of 767 points.

Coach Cinniger is looking forward to a commendable season next year. He has reason to be optimistic; the whole squad, with the exception of Bill Stough, will be pounding the hardwood for him.

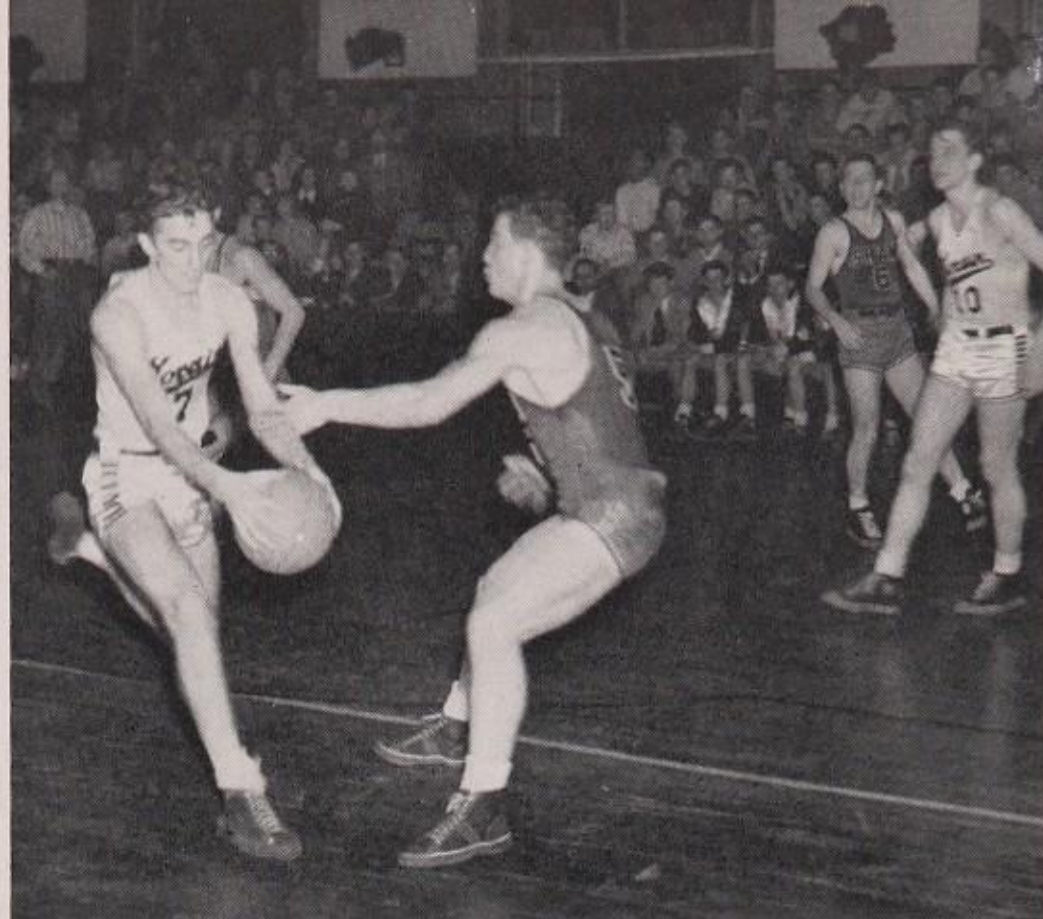

The Reserves led the League with 8 wins and only two losses.

Suder breaks through the Elyria defense and starts down the floor.
